

Rest in peace Inforarea Project: removing ballast to move to independent consultancy

Written by

Monday, 27 June 2011 19:21 - Last Updated Monday, 27 June 2011 19:39

My time as partner in Inforárea SL ends definitively today. What was already a fact since the beginning of 2011

, is now

legally finished

.

I just sold

my 50

% stake to

Elisa

Garcia

-Morales

, who was my partner

for over 25 years. F rom

now on Inforarea is a pa rticular project

, in

which I am not involved on it neither

corporate

or professionally

Written by

Monday, 27 June 2011 19:21 - Last Updated Monday, 27 June 2011 19:39

This end of Inforarea was not originally planned this way, when late last year we decided to disband the team and take our own path.

I have chosen to act as an Independent Consultant specializing in the areas of information, content, records and document management, with the intention of working not only in Spain but also in international projects.

This independence allows me to lead teams with national and international experts and "former" members of the Inforarea team who also act independently, and bring their particular expertise in when needed.

I am also available to participate in multidisciplinary teams led by others to implement specific projects.

The Inforarea project was a long and fruitful stage of my life, which had its precedent in my first venture

Written by

Monday, 27 June 2011 19:21 - Last Updated Monday, 27 June 2011 19:39

(
Gabinete de Asesores Documentalistas

, SA)

some

25 years ago

.

A cting as an independent consiultant

could not be possible without these previous steps.

T

his rapidly changing world

in

information management

has been and is for me an exciting

area to develop my work

, requiring

continuous learning and update

.

The need to respond to the new challenges and situations from a broader perspective is the driver to use my knowledge and energy more than ever.